

Bringing Kids and Player Even Closer

Bridge Logistics Services Makes Donation to Children's Hospital of Wisconsin

With the help of Josh Rife,( Defender), and Nick Perera, (Forward), from the Milwaukee Wave, Bridge Logistics Services, Inc. of Milwaukee, Wisconsin donated Snuggies and Pillow Pets to the Children's Hospital of Wisconsin.

Bridge Logistics Services is a third-party logistics company located in Milwaukee. Because the City of Milwaukee was so helpful to them with their move in to the City this year and because Children's Hospital means so much to the City of Milwaukee, Bridge wanted to do something special. "What could be better combination than Snuggies and Pillow Pets, and the Children's Hospital. We wanted to provide items to Hospital that would be popular with children and give warmth during our cold weather periods.", said Tom Haering, president of Bridge Logistics Services, Inc.

The Milwaukee Wave have been longtime supporters of the Children's Hospital of Wisconsin. Having the Milwaukee Wave as part of this donation made the event extra special. "We love interacting with the children at the hospital. We hope our time with them brings them a "sense of normalcy" and brightens their lives a little, after all the hectic and traumatic things they go through in a day. We appreciate our time with them and the time Children's Hospital gives us with the Children.", said Josh Rife from the Milwaukee Wave.

(pictured: l-r Jill Winch, Child Life Specialist, CHW; Nick Perera, Forward, Milwaukee Wave; guests of CHW; Stephanie Clayton, Child Life Specialist, CHW; Josh Rife, Milwaukee Wave; Megan Hughes, Marketing/Events, CHW)